Summer Seminar!

Our students know that Summer Seminar is numismatics’ premier annual educational event. It’s a meeting place of great minds and great friends, where you’ll learn and grow into a more informed collector and professional, all while enjoying the company of like-minded people.

You can encounter fascinating subjects presented by world-class instructors and spend time with other students who share your passion. Optional tours, seminars and special events round out a perfect week (or two) of numismatic immersion.

Classes are held on the campus of Colorado College, a prominent, four-year liberal arts college founded in Colorado Springs in 1874. A variety of tuition and lodging options are available to meet your needs and budget.

Rarely do students or instructors attend just one Summer Seminar. More than 70 percent of them come back time and time again for the unparalleled education, priceless friendships and spirited camaraderie. There is a reason why those who attend are so loyal to and excited for Summer Seminar.

What are you waiting for? An enthusiastic exchange of ideas and knowledge awaits you!
For more than 50 years, Summer Seminar, a two-week-long annual conference in Colorado Springs, Colorado, has offered in-depth classes to suit virtually every collector’s needs. With such a wide range of material, students can become numismatic photographers or publishers, or detect counterfeit coins and paper money. There’s ample opportunity to learn how to grade and study ancient or war coinage, even carve coins, and much more. At Summer Seminar, students are able to tailor their numismatic education for a personal fit.

Classes consist of small groups where participation is encouraged and engaging discussion is prevalent. Students learn from instructors who are recognized leaders in their fields and from the collective experiences of fellow pupils, who span in age from teenagers to seniors. (See below from more information about young attendees.)

Students may choose from a variety of tuition and lodging options to meet their needs, preferences and budgets. Most stay in Colorado College dormitories, but many elect to stay at nearby hotels and inns. For more details, see page 22 and the registration form (pages 23 and 24).

Optional tours, seminars, lectures and special events allow students to customize their experience. Attendees also have many opportunities to visit the ANA’s Edward C. Rochette Money Museum and Dwight N. Manley Numismatic Library.

"I’ve lived a full life and thought I’d ‘been there and done that.’ Then I finally made the time to attend Summer Seminar and found that I needed a new life. So much to learn! It has been the high point of every year since.

GREAT FRIENDS, KNOWLEDGE, MEMORIES!"

-Pam S., ANA member

COVID-19 PROTOCOL 2024: If you contract COVID-19 at Summer Seminar and are staying in an apartment or a double room on campus, you must isolate for five days. If you are in a single room on campus, you also must isolate, but others in the same dorm building do not have to isolate. During those five days, it is the responsibility of the attendees to arrange food and medication delivery. Staff is not able to deliver food from the cafeteria or stores. If your stay goes beyond what has already been paid for, you will be responsible for the additional nightly lodging rate. The ANA will issue a refund on a prorated rate for class days you have to miss due to isolation. If you choose to leave early, it is your responsibility to make travel arrangements. If at any time you test positive for COVID, it is important you do not enter any building except your lodging room, and please contact Sheila Fortenberry (719-237-8378) immediately. If you feel ill with any symptoms, please test before going around anyone else. Masks and tests are available at the ANA Money Museum’s front desk.

While the majority of students are adults, more than 40 young numismatists (YNs)—ages 13-17*—attend Summer Seminar each year, bringing youthful enthusiasm and new perspectives to campus. Over the years, many of these YNs have become hobby leaders, and numerous Summer Seminar veterans have played a key role in encouraging their success. YNs stay in a Colorado College dormitory with counselor supervision. During the week, YNs have the same opportunities as adult students. They attend class during the day and can take mini-seminars or tours in the evening. YNs also organize and conduct a benefit auction, with all proceeds directly benefiting the YN Summer Seminar Scholarship Fund, which helps dozens of youth attend this prestigious event every year.

*See YN AGE GUIDELINES on page 17.
1. Grading United States Coins, Part 1—Full
Explore the history and philosophy of grading and learn how to grade copper, nickel, silver, and gold U.S. coins according to the latest ANA and market standards. Instructors: David J. McCarthy (senior numismatist, Kagin’s) and Steven Feltner (director of numismatic education and outreach, PCGS)

3. World Coin Grading
This course focuses on learning grading standards for world coins from the American grading services’ perspective. The course includes instruction on grading vintage and modern world coins, including all normal or special strikes as well as milled and non-milled coinage. Segments of the course are dedicated to detecting and identifying no-grade and problem coins, as well as a segment covering counterfeit coin detection.

Instructors: Jay Turner (senior world coin grader, PCGS) and Dylan Dominguez (junior world coin grader, PCGS)

4. Advanced United States Coin Grading & Problem Coins
Discover the nuances of high-grade, mint-state, and proof coins. Find out the methods used by experts, as well as their own strengths and weaknesses. Enrollment is limited to 24 students.

Prerequisite: Successful completion of “Grading United States Coins, Parts 1 and 2” or instructor permission.

Instructors: Don Ketterling (professional numismatist, D.H. Ketterling Consulting), Jeff Garrett (Mid-American Rare Coin Galleries, senior editor) and Ken Park
5. INTRODUCTION TO COUNTERFEIT & ALTERATION
Learn how counterfeits are made from ancient times to today. Chinese counterfeits that have entered the coin market over the last 30 years are emphasized. This plague is not because of the sophistication of counterfeits but because of the sheer number in the market. Examine Chinese counterfeits and see how easily you can spot them. If you work in law enforcement, you’ll gain the confidence to go to court and prove your case. If you’re buying coins online or through the mail or work at a coin shop, pawn shop, or as a vest pocket dealer, you will benefit from this class.

Instructors: Brian Silliman (professional numismatist, Brian Silliman Rare Coins, and former NGC grader/conserver and ANA authenticator/conserver) and Jim Robinson (professional numismatist, APMEX)

6. DETECTION OF COUNTERFEIT WORLD PAPER MONEY

UPDATED COURSE DESCRIPTION: This course will show students how to separate good paper money from bad (including notes intended to circulate, and notes made years later specifically to defraud collectors). Topics include the history of counterfeiting, printing techniques, security devices and their fraudulent replication, raised and altered notes, and entrepreneurial counterfeiting since the 19th century. Examples of vintage and recent counterfeits will be compared to genuine notes using magnification, ultraviolet and infrared illumination, and the trained eye to identify the spurious pieces. Special attention will be devoted to counterfeit notes that are created specifically to sell to collectors.

Instructor: Joseph E. Boling (former ANA vice president, ANA Chief Judge and coauthor of World War II Remembered: History in Your Hands, A Numismatic Study)

7. THE MODERN MINTING PROCESS: ERRORS & VARIETIES
Explore the minting process and learn how each procedure can lead to the creation of collectable errors and varieties. Topics include identification and description, value, and the art of cherrypicking. Students are encouraged to bring their own errors and varieties. A visit to the Moonlight Mint is included. This class fulfills the “Modern Minting Process/U.S. Minting Errors and Varieties” course requirement for the ANA Numismatic Diploma Program.

Instructors: Sam Gelberd (ANA numismatic education manager) and John H. Miller (ANA district representative and CONECA historian)

8. DIGITAL IMAGE EDITING FOR NUMISMATICS: GETTING YOUR OBERSES AND REVERSES TOGETHER
Discover the essential principles of digital image editing for collectors, dealers, authors, and researchers. Students learn how to choose software, fundamental editing techniques, file management and formatting, image resolution, and ethical guidelines. A variety of practice images are provided, but students are strongly encouraged to bring their own digital photos to work on. The instructor guides students through a free trial and purchase options for Photoshop or Photoshop Elements during the first day of class, so students do not need to worry if they do not already have the software. Computers are not provided, so bringing your own Mac or PC laptop is required. Important note: This is not a photography class!

Instructor: Michael Kodysz (visual communication instructor and numismatic exhibitor)

11. COIN CARVING 101: CREATING THE MODERN HOBO NICKEL
When is a buffalo an elephant, or an Indian a soldier in uniform? Find out in this fascinating exploration of the history and folk art of the hand-carved hobo nickel. Students learn to use hand gravers, a hammer and chisel, and rotary and air-powered tools to create their own works of Americana art. Each student receives ready-to-carve nickels.

Students also study designers, imprints, and collecting themes. How to share collections through articles, talks, and exhibits are also discussed, along with how to organize, store, and track them in a living, flexible way. This class is designed to benefit beginning and advanced collectors, and participants are encouraged to bring their bank-note questions, knowledge, and experiences, so that everyone can gain a better appreciation of African bank notes.

14. EARLY AMERICAN COPPER COINAGE (COPPER 1)
In this introduction to early American coppers, students gain a basic understanding of the coinage, including how it was distributed by the mint, where and how it circulated, how to determine if a copper has been cleaned or altered, and how restrikes were made. Learn how to grade and attribute higher-graded coins. Topics are student-driven—if you want to know something, just ask! Bring your loupe and any coppers you would like to share.

Instructor: Jim Carr (EAC member, professional numismatist, Carr’s Coins)

15. LEGACY & COINAGE OF FATHER–SON MINT ENGRAVERS WILLIAM & CHARLES BARBER

Instructors: John Frost (president of the Barber Coin Collectors’ Society and director of education of the Liberty Seated Collectors Club) and Glen Holsonbake (professional numismatist, Americana Rare Coins)
Mini-seminars are introductory, hands-on courses usually conducted over one- or two-evening sessions. They allow Summer Seminar participants to study more than one area of interest or learn something new. Each student may take one mini-seminar in conjunction with their day course. Pre-registration is required.

A. AUCTION WORLD 101: AN INSIDER PERSPECTIVE • $59
Sunday, June 16, 6:30-9:30 p.m.
There are many segments every auction house must put together to produce a successful event. These range from obtaining the consignments, cataloging, marketing, and conducting the auction live, online, or live interactive. Discuss each moving part from start to finish and come away with the knowledge to help you improve, upgrade, or disperse a collection through the auction method. Find out how to buy, sell, and participate in auctions by understanding how auction companies approach sales.
Instructor: Ailie Byers (CFO, Centennial Auctions)

B. ENLIVENING YOUR CLUB • $79
Sunday-Monday, June 16-17, 6:30-9:30 p.m.
Students learn how to enliven their clubs. Topics include how to attract new members, achieving and maintaining involvement and excitement with current members, and roles and responsibilities. Students learn how to make their coin club vibrant and dynamic. Discussion includes outreach opportunities to educate the public and attract new members and also how to build an exciting and fun YN program to grow your club and reinvigorate the entire membership. If your club has become stagnant, this class is for you. If you want to start a new club, this class is for you. If your club is doing fine but needs to grow, this class is for you.
Instructors: Phil Vitale (ANA national coordinator for district representatives and past president of the Albuquerque Coin Club) and Eric and Jennifer Kibbey (founding members of the Richmond Coin and Currency Club and co-owners of Camelot Coins)

C. U.S. ERROR COINS • $59

This mini-seminar provides a detailed overview of a fascinating area in collecting U.S. coins: mint errors. It includes hands-on examination of dozens of error coins (including many rare pieces), along with interactive discussions. Please note that this seminar focuses on older or obsolete series and does not feature common modern errors.
Instructor: John Frost (director of education of the Liberty Seated Collectors Club and president of the Barber Coin Collectors’ Society)

D. COLLECTING THE “ODD-BALL” DENOMINATIONS • $59
Monday, June 17, 6:30-9:30 p.m.
Two cents, silver 3 cents, nickel 3 cents, and 20 cents all represent a group of oddball denominations that are often overlooked by collectors. Usually collected by type, collectors often select only a single example of each for a 19th-century type set. However, these short-lived and often-neglected denominations have a wealth of rarities and varieties that make these series great. This mini-seminar provides a detailed overview of each of these series and includes a discussion of scarce and key dates, major varieties, errors, collecting strategies, grading, and value. This mini-seminar includes hands-on examination of coins from these series (including key dates and a number of varieties), along with interactive discussions.
Instructor: John Frost (coauthor of Double Dimes: The United States Twenty Cent Piece and education director of the Liberty Seated Collectors Club)
Students have the option to stay in a dorm room on the Colorado College campus. Please note that Colorado College offers a college-setting dorm and dining atmosphere. These are basic rooms with shared bathrooms and no televisions, seating areas, or air conditioning, though each double or private room has window fans on a first-come, first-served basis. Fans can be requested at Loomis Hall between 8 a.m. and 10 p.m. daily. The beds are standard twin-size with clean linens provided on arrival, including sheets and towels. If you want fitted sheets, you may choose to bring your own. No cleaning service is available during your stay, though you can request fresh towels and linens at Loomis Hall between 8 a.m. and 10 p.m. daily. On-campus lodgers will need to bring their own toiletries. Should you forget something, two 7-Eleven stores are within walking distance of campus, and the college bookstore offers a limited selection of basic supplies.

Students can choose between a double room, shared with one other student, and a single room, which is private. Neither has a bathroom in the room, but they do have a small refrigerator and microwave. An apartment-style option offers four single rooms with one shared bathroom, a small kitchen, and common space. Also, you can request specific roommates, so you can surround yourself with familiar faces all week! To do this, you must advise on your registration form or call ANA Seminars & Clubs Coordinator Sheila Fortenberry at 719-482-9848 after you register online. Another benefit of staying on campus is that you are close to your classes, events, meals, and of course, the Lunar Lounge, where adults gather at the end of the day.

If stairs are difficult for you, it is important that you indicate on your registration form that you require a room on the ground floor. If you register online, please contact Sheila Fortenberry as soon as you register to advise her to make notes. If you do not contact staff or advise us on your registration form, you will not be guaranteed ground-floor accommodations. Students say that staying on campus is perfect for meeting new friends, but if your health does not allow you to comfortably stay on campus, please look at other lodging options.

While many enjoy the campus experience, some students prefer to stay at a hotel. Several accommodations are nearby (see p. 18), about a mile from Colorado College, and downtown Colorado Springs offers a free shuttle-bus service throughout downtown that stops at Colorado College. (See the map at right.)

27. Roman Imperial Coinage, Part III: Gallienus to Romulus Augustus
Coins uniquely illustrate ancient Roman history, culture, and economy. Using resources from the Edward C. Rochette Money Museum and Dwight N. Manley Numismatic Library collections, students follow the development of late Roman coinage—from the near collapse of the empire in the mid-3rd century to the Imperial recovery of the 4th century and the eventual collapse of the western empire in the late 5th century. This fascinating journey brings to life the emperors and empresses, gods and goddesses, and historical events of this volatile time through its rich and varied coinage.
Instructors: Douglas Mudd (ANA Money Museum curator and director) and Kerry Wetterstrom (past president of the Ancient Coin Collectors Guild, former auction director and senior numismatist at Classical Numismatic Group, former editor and publisher of The Celator magazine, and an instructor at the ANA Summer Seminar since 1990)

28. Creating a Winning Numismatic Exhibit
This class is for anyone who loves to do research related to their coins, enjoys sharing their collection with others, and loves to “play” with their numismatic objects. Likewise, if you enjoy friendly competitions and would like to improve an already existing exhibit or build one for the first time, this class was designed for you. Young numismatists will find the skills acquired in this class very helpful in a number of related hobby and/or academic areas. One of the most rewarding aspects of coin collecting is sharing knowledge with others through an exhibit. Students go through the entire process, from brainstorming, writing, and selecting materials to designing a balanced layout and pulling it all together. Learn how to pack an exhibit for transportation, as well as exhibit rules and judging. Participants are encouraged to improve an already existing display or create a new one while attending. A laptop computer and ideas for new exhibits also are recommended.
Instructor: Lawrence Sekulich (working artist, retired art instructor, numismatic author, speaker, and award-winning exhibitor)
29. FROM THE FIRST STRIKE TO INDEPENDENCE: MEXICO, 1536–1821
This class reviews the historical events that gave birth to the first coin being minted in the New World in 1536. The course covers the intricate cob designs all the way to the first round coin on the American continent in 1732. The Pillar designs are addressed and studied. The international stamps and counterstamps of these series up to the rise of New Spain’s revolt in 1810 that ended in the issues of the War of Independence are covered. The class concludes with the pivotal year of 1821.
Instructor: Ricardo de León Tallavas (author and Mexican coinage expert)

30. WORLD WAR II NUMISMATICS
Allied military franc notes were secretly printed in the United States for the D-Day invasion of France, shipped to England, and paid to the troops mere hours before the assault. To hold one of them is to touch another time—history in your hands! Vast numbers of military and emergency issues were produced during World War II, and the study thereof is fascinating. The issues are remarkably diverse in purpose, use, design, and production. Most of the issues were paper, but coins were also created. Due to the vast variety of the material, this class utilizes a case-study approach, using certain issues to represent the greater universe of issues. United States Military Payment Certificates, Allied military currency, and Japanese invasion money are covered in-depth.
Instructors: Fred Schwan and Joseph E. Boling (authors of World War II Remembered: History in Your Hands, A Numismatic Study)

31. A SURVEY OF 20TH–& 21ST–CENTURY WORLD COINS
This class studies the artistry, history, geography, people, and stories represented in modern world coinage. Students explore coins of all types, from common to rare, beautiful to ugly, general issues, commemoratives, errors and patterns, along with the composition, designers, and mintages. Grading and how to share collections through articles, talks, and exhibits are covered, along with how to organize, store, record, and track them to make it easy for participants to organize their collections in a living, flexible way. New and seasoned collectors are encouraged to attend and bring their coins and difficult pieces to class in order to share their knowledge and experiences, so all will leave with a better appreciation for our modern world.
Instructor: Benjamin Swagerty (international numismatic researcher and media specialist for OKCPS)

32. ADVANCED TOPICS IN EARLY AMERICAN COPPERS (COPPER 2)
This course is an extension of “Early American Copper Coinage (Copper 1)” and deals with advanced identification and a basic understanding of early American coppers. Topics are student-driven—if you want to know something, just ask! Bring your loupe and any coppers you would like to share.
Instructor: Jim Carr (EAC member, professional numismatist, Carr’s Coins)
33. Roman Coinage & Coins in the Early Roman Provinces in the Age of Conquests

Over the course of the 2nd and 1st centuries B.C., Rome conquered most of the Mediterranean world in a whirlwind of military campaigns. However, one of the most surprising aspects of this Roman domination is that they ruled without imposing their coinage on most of the conquered regions. This class builds on Lucia Carbone’s Local Coinages in a Roman World, a catalog recently published by the American Numismatic Society, that includes the 3,727 coins of the Richard B. Witschonke Collection of Early Provincial Coinage. Carbone offers a unique overview of these diverse coinages minted across the Roman Empire, ranging from Daco-Getan, Spanish and Italian imitations of Roman coinage, and Macedonian and Athenian tetradrachms to Asian, Cilician, and Cretan cistophori. Though seemingly unrelated, these coinages illustrate how the monetary systems of the Mediterranean basin responded to the Roman conquest and to the necessity of interconnectivity within the Roman economic system.

Instructors: Dr. Lucia Carbone (Ph.D. in classical studies from Columbia University, 2016) and Andrew M. Burnett (associate curator of Roman coins for the American Numismatic Society since 2016)

34. A History of U.S. Colonial Coins, Currency & Medals

United States colonial and pre-Federal coinage and paper currency are among the most popular areas collected today. Each type of coin or note represents a historical chapter of the colonial experience. While they all have their own histories, none were created in isolation. This seminar introduces the many types of colonial money and puts them into historical context. This not only includes coins and currency of the colonial period, but also into the Confederation period and leading up to the creation of Federal coinage (1652-1792). As a numismatist, your collection will only become more treasured to you as you learn more and more about the pieces it contains.

Instructor: Dr. Jesse Kraft (Resolute Americana assistant curator at the American Numismatic Society)

35. The Business of Making Medals in the Early U.S. Mint

Congress never authorized the striking of medals as a function of the United States Mint. This seminar reviews the history of how medals came to be made at the mint and how this function came to be operated essentially as a private business—a business that ran fairly smoothly in its earliest days but in time became something of an embarrassment that led to the replacement of the mint director and the firing of the chief coiner.

Instructors: Neil Musante and David Menchell (ANA district representative, exhibit judge and award-winning exhibitor)
Mini-seminars are introductory, hands-on courses usually conducted over one- or two-evening sessions. They allow Summer Seminar participants to study more than one area of interest or learn something new. Each student may take one mini-seminar in conjunction with their day course. Pre-registration is required.

Students receive hands-on experience in determining Overton varieties on many Capped Bust half dollars. Grading Capped Bust half dollars, as well as counterfeit detection, is discussed during this two-day mini-seminar.
Instructor: Bruce Breedlove (coin dealer and collector, cofounder of Classic City Coin Club in Athens, Georgia) and Eric Kibbey (owner of Camelot Coins, LLC and secretary of Richmond Coin & Currency Club in Richmond, Indiana)

H. LET’S GET WEIRD • $79
Sunday-Monday, June 23-24, 6:30-9:30 p.m.
An exploration of wildly major errors, incredible oddities, and their accompanying fascinating stories brought to you by two longtime friends and numismatic eccentrics who collect and love them. This two-evening session showcases precious ultra-rare items, offering ideas for finding such things in the wild, as well as ways to acquire a greater understanding and appreciation for the odd and unusual.
